

Our roots lie in the Lochner Electro-Technology Group. Out of it we started our business in 2003 and are now active as a young and innovative company under the name Pult + Gehäuse Design GmbH.

The special requirements of our customers are always the center of attention for our young and highly qualified team. We work flexible and with innovative ideas and always try to individually fit our products.

OPERATIONAL AREAS

Our products are used into numerous industries and sectors. The individual configuration possibilities according to the local conditions are the large plus of our control desks and housings.

In the following sectors our products are preferentially used:

- + steel and rolling mills
- + mechanical engineering
- + paper industry
- + food industry
- + theatre
- + vehicle technology, shipbuilding
